

Appendix

Appendix Table 1: Survey questions relating to blood samples.

	Question	Response options
1	Te Tai Tokerau (Northland): How would you feel about donating your blood sample to help develop a future test for lung cancer? Tāmaki Makaurau (Auckland): How comfortable would you be with storage of a blood sample for future testing about the risks of lung cancer?	Very comfortable Comfortable Neither comfortable nor uncomfortable Uncomfortable Very uncomfortable Prefer not to answer
2	Te Tai Tokerau (Northland): If the option of donating blood samples for this research was available, which of the following things would be important to you? (Tick as many as apply) Tāmaki Makaurau (Auckland) screenees: What would make you feel more comfortable with the taking and storing of your blood as part of a lung health check? (Select as many as apply) Tāmaki Makaurau (Auckland) whānau tautoko: What would make you/whānau feel more comfortable with the taking and storing of your blood as part of a lung health check? (Select as many as apply)	Nothing, I'm fine with it anyway Clear information about how it is going to be used Being able to say yes or no to some uses Iwi involvement in decisions about storage/use Following tikanga when handling blood tissue Māori governance for storage and use Knowing who makes decisions about its use Knowing how this might protect the health of future generations (tamariki/mokopuna) Return of samples if not used Nothing—I wouldn't participate if blood tests were involved